Courtney Gordon: the world's strongest woman!

A grey morning in Hong Kong and I'm just setting off to photograph Courtney Gordon.

In recent years she's to be known as the 'strongest woman on Earth'.

As a 13-year-old secondary school student growing up in Edinburgh, Scotland, she won the gold medal in the national archery competition. Not content to settle success in one sport however, she later became the national women's shot-put champion. It's safe to say Gordon is big news in the world of sport. twice won the annual Women's World Weightlifting Competition. Her success has her the face of this rapidly growing sport.

I enter the unassuming downtown gym where she can regularly be found putting herself a rigorous fitness regime. At the back of the room, two large bodybuilders struggle to drag huge tractor tyres weight of a grand piano from one side of the room to the other. On a weightlifting bench to my left, Gordon heaves two enormous dumb-bells into the air at least ten times before dropping to the floor and doing several sets of press-ups. And all this without even breaking into a sweat. I start to wonder whether my images will ever be able to capture the atmosphere of this place and justice to this amazing woman.

I have to say, given what's on the market elsewhere, I'd expected the location to be more clearly reflected in the price. It's not as if it was being offered at a knock-down rate, is it?

What does the man mean?

He considered the house to be too expensive for his budget.

He had a poor opinion of the area where the house was situated.

He had hoped to be shown a house in a different neighbourhood.

Woman

Why was Josh so quiet at practice this evening?

Man

He's been messing around so much recently, it's been annoying everyone. I told him if he doesn't stop it, he's off the team.

Well, you don't exactly mince your words, do you?

What does the woman mean by her SECOND comment?

Courtney Gordon: the world's strongest woman!

A grey morning in Hong Kong and I'm just [setting] off to photograph Courtney Gordon.

In recent years she's [] to be known as the 'strongest woman on Earth'.

As a 13-year-old secondary school student growing up in Edinburgh, Scotland, she won the gold medal in the national archery competition. Not content to settle [] success in one sport however, she later became the national women's shot-put champion. It's safe to say Gordon is big news in the world of sport, [] twice won the annual Women's World Weightlifting Competition. Her success has [] her the face of this rapidly growing sport.

I enter the unassuming downtown gym where she can regularly be found putting herself [] a rigorous fitness regime. At the back of the room, two large bodybuilders struggle to drag huge tractor tyres [] weight of a grand piano from one side of the room to the other. On a weightlifting bench to my left, Gordon heaves two enormous dumb-bells into the air at least ten times before dropping to the floor and doing several sets of press-ups. And all this without even breaking into a sweat. I start to wonder whether my images will ever be able to capture the atmosphere of this place and [] justice to this amazing woman.
