Courtney Gordon: the world's strongest woman!

A grey morning in Hong Kong and I'm just setting off to photograph Courtney Gordon.

In recent years she's to be known as the 'strongest woman on Earth'.

As a 13-year-old secondary school student growing up in Edinburgh, Scotland, she won the gold medal in the national archery competition. Not content to settle success in one sport however, she later became the national women's shot-put champion. It's safe to say Gordon is big news in the world of sport, twice won the annual Women's World Weightlifting Competition. Her success has her the face of this rapidly growing sport.

I enter the unassuming downtown gym where she can regularly be found putting herself a rigorous fitness regime. At the back of the room, two large bodybuilders struggle to drag huge tractor tyres weight of a grand piano from one side of the room to the other. On a weightlifting bench to my left, Gordon heaves two enormous dumb-bells into the air at least ten times before dropping to the floor and doing several sets of press-ups. And all this without even breaking into a sweat. I start to wonder whether my images will ever be able to capture the atmosphere of this place and justice to this amazing woman.
